

Photogallery

Harbour Walls Excavation

A small section of the exposed wall showing the quality of the 18th century stonemasons' work.

A fragment of the many pottery shards that were dug up.

Some general views of the site and the work in progress

