

Portobello Toddlers' Hut

GALLERY

These photographs are a small selection from the many that must have been taken over the years since the hut was built. They have been selected as they illustrate very clearly changes in style over time, not only in dress but also in the demeanour of both adults and children.

